

The ADAPT Community

ADAPT is a national grass-roots disability rights group. We work for equality and positive change in policy and programs to include people with disabilities in American society.

The main goal of ADAPT is to end the institutional bias in Medicaid that forces people with disabilities from their home and families into expensive institutions and nursing homes.

ADAPT proposes legislation, advises decision-makers and suggests constructive solutions on local, state and national levels. ADAPT believes in action. Like classic civil rights struggles, we may use nonviolent civil disobedience.

Most importantly, ADAPT members have helped thousands of people with disabilities live in their own homes with their own families instead of being locked away in undesirable institutions.

Do you want to live in a nursing home?

ADAPT
www.adapt.org
adapt@adapt.org

The ADAPT Community

ADAPT is a national grass-roots disability rights group. We work for equality and positive change in policy and programs to include people with disabilities in American society.

The main goal of ADAPT is to end the institutional bias in Medicaid that forces people with disabilities from their home and families into expensive institutions and nursing homes.

ADAPT proposes legislation, advises decision-makers and suggests constructive solutions on local, state and national levels. ADAPT believes in action. Like classic civil rights struggles, we may use nonviolent civil disobedience.

Most importantly, ADAPT members have helped thousands of people with disabilities live in their own homes with their own families instead of being locked away in undesirable institutions.

Do you want to live in a nursing home?

ADAPT
www.adapt.org
adapt@adapt.org

The ADAPT Community

ADAPT is a national grass-roots disability rights group. We work for equality and positive change in policy and programs to include people with disabilities in American society.

The main goal of ADAPT is to end the institutional bias in Medicaid that forces people with disabilities from their home and families into expensive institutions and nursing homes.

ADAPT proposes legislation, advises decision-makers and suggests constructive solutions on local, state and national levels. ADAPT believes in action. Like classic civil rights struggles, we may use nonviolent civil disobedience.

Most importantly, ADAPT members have helped thousands of people with disabilities live in their own homes with their own families instead of being locked away in undesirable institutions.

Do you want to live in a nursing home?

ADAPT
www.adapt.org
adapt@adapt.org

You think
prison is bad,
try living in a
nursing home.

You think
prison is bad,
try living in a
nursing home.

You think
prison is bad,
try living in a
nursing home.

*“In jail your sen-
tence has and end,
while in a nursing
home too often the
only way out is a
pine box.”*

- Michelle Steger
of St. Louis

*“In jail your sen-
tence has and end,
while in a nursing
home too often the
only way out is a
pine box.”*

- Michelle Steger
of St. Louis

*“In jail your sen-
tence has and end,
while in a nursing
home too often the
only way out is a
pine box.”*

- Michelle Steger
of St. Louis

Without affordable,
accessible, integrated
housing options, people
with disabilities are often
sentenced to expensive
and abhorrent institutions. ADAPT is working for an integrated
community with the same
choices that we all
demand in housing.

Without affordable,
accessible, integrated
housing options, people
with disabilities are often
sentenced to expensive
and abhorrent institutions. ADAPT is working
for an integrated
community with the same
choices that we all
demand in housing.

Without affordable,
accessible, integrated
housing options, people
with disabilities are often
sentenced to expensive
and abhorrent institutions. ADAPT is working
for an integrated
community with the same
choices that we all
demand in housing.

